GEORGIA FARMERS URGED TO GROW WINTER WHEAT

November Not Too Late for Good Yield, Says U. S.
Farm Expert

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—To hasten planting of the winter wheat, the department of agriculture has issued special bulletins on growing of winter wheat and winter cotton in the cotton belt. The bulletins in the cotton belt, agronomist in the C. W. Washington, agronomist in the south of plant industry, says the value of a winter grain crop in the south was never more apparent than now.

"With cotton low in price," says Mr.
Washington, "farmers are looking for ways that can be cashed for cash or which will lessen their expenses by supplying fuel for work stock. Wheat, oats and sorghum are all readily salable locally and in northern markets, while at present there is also a considerable demand for wheat."

The crop crop succeeds rather better in the other grains in the south. In the both Atlantic and Gulf states, except perhaps in the heavy day soils of the southern coast (western North and South Carolina and northern Georgia and Alabama).

"It is now too late to sow oats
in any quantity this fall, the crop will be sown early for grain in November and early in December in the southwest. Many experiments have shown that October or November seeding will give the best yields of grain
in the south Atlantic and Gulf states than sowing during the winter
of early spring."

THIEF TAKES BANK BOOK, LEAVING JEWELRY

Real Gum-Shoe Man Visits
Hansen Home, in West End

A real gum-shoe man must have been on the job when H. L. Hansen's home at 113 Holcom street, West End, was robbed Monday night, according to Mr.
Hansen's account of the affair.

The thief took two or three bank books, one of which he let fall in the street. The bank books had been according to Mr. Hansen in the middle drawer of the dresser, and it is a mystery to her how any one knew of their presence
there.

Two hundred dollars' worth of jewelry was left lying untouched on the dresser, and other valuables were ignored.

ATKINSON BLAMES MINE OWNERS FOR CONDITIONS

Former Atlanta Pastor Says Operators Cause of Trouble in Colorado

Responsibility for the loss of many lives and destruction of property growing out of the recent strikes in the coal fields of Colorado and the copper mine of Michigan, is laid at the door of the mine owners by Rev. Henry A. Atkinson, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Atlanta, who has just completed an investigation for the social service commission of the Congregational churches and the commission of the Council of Churches.

Mr. Atkinson's report to the commission on church and social service of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, of which he is the associate secretary, was made public Monday afternoon in New York City. In it he severely arraigns the Colorado coal companies for their attitude in the Colorado labor troubles, charging that through the manipulation of political affairs in the state they denied economic justice to the miners.

During his pastorate in Atlanta, which he resigned several years ago, Mr. Atkinson attained a widespread popularity and won the confidence and affection of members of organized labor. He took an especial interest in social and industrial conditions and was the honorary chaplain of the Atlanta Typographical union. Frequently he preached special sermons to the various labor organizations.

FIFTEEN LIVES ARE LOST WHEN SHIP IS WRECKED

Hanalei, Which Ran Ashore Monday, Dashed to Pieces Early Tuesday

(By Associated Press.)
BOLINAS, Cal., Nov. 24.—Forty-three survivors and fifteen dead from the wrecked coasting steamer Hanalei, which went ashore yesterday on Duxbury reef near here, had been accounted for at 10 a. m. today. Of these thirty were towed ashore by the lines or struggled through the smother of surf by their own strength, and thirteen were carried aboard the revenue cutter McCulloch.

As the vessel had sixty-two persons aboard all told, the list of dead and living left but four unaccounted for. These figures did not include, however, five men of the Port Point life saving crew, San Francisco, who were swamped last night. Two of these were known to have come ashore safely, but the remaining three were variously reported as aboard the McCulloch and among those cast adrift when the Hanalei broke up. They could not be counted with any certainty among either the dead or the living.

The Hanalei broke into splinters early today after pounding on the reef nearly twenty-four hours. Some of the fragments washed far enough ashore to enable those clinging to them to make a fight for their lives. The ordinary apparatus of life saving was powerless against distance, fog and a breaking sea. Among those washed ashore unaided were Mrs. Ethel Peterson and her son Harold, eight years old, of Windsor, Cal.

Oil from the oil tanks of the smashed ship coated the sea and made slimy the rocks of the beach, adding to the difficulties of the rescuers.

When Croup Comes Treat Externally

Give Your Children Nutritious Food

Children should eat meat sparingly. A great many mothers give their little ones too much meat, under the mistaken impression that it will make them strong.

It might surprise you to know that a 19c package of Faust Spaghetti contains four times as much nutrition as one pound of the finest tenderloin steak. Easier digested, also. One of the finest meals you could give a child is a big plate of Faust Spaghetti and bread and butter.

Here's a chance to cut down the high cost of living by eating more Faust spaghetti and less meat. Send for our new recipe book and find out how many fine, appetizing dishes you can make of Faust Spaghetti. Buy a package today—5c and 10c.

Relief Committee

The members of the war relief committee held a most interesting meeting Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Porter King on Peachtree road. Interest in the sufferers of Europe is steadily growing and is manifested in the efforts of Atlanta women to aid by cutting and making garments for the helpless ones. An added impetus has been given the movement during the past few days as a shipment of garments will be probably started on the journey across seas on Saturday. Over 500 shirts are in readiness and with the contributions from the sock sale held Tuesday afternoon at the Georgian Terrace will materially contribute to the relief work being carried on in all parts of the United States.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

By Thornton W. Burgess

There was one thing which had puzzled the little people of the Green Forest, the Green Meadows and the Smiling Pool for a long time. Where had Old Man Coyote come from? There had been a time when they hadn't known that he existed. Then one day they discovered that he had come to the Green Meadows to make his home, and he had been there ever since. There had been a great deal of wondering about him, and where he had come from, but no one felt well enough acquainted with him to ask him so personal a question. The truth is no one, unless it was Buster Bear, dared ask him, and Buster Bear wasn't interested.

Sammy Jay had been one of those who had wondered a great deal about Old Man Coyote. Now, usually Sammy was not at all bashful or the least bit backward about prying into other people's affairs, but there was something about Old Man Coyote that always discouraged him. Today, however, it was different. He had come over to tell Old Man Coyote that all the little people of Smiling Pool and the Green Meadows had given him a vote of thanks for leading Bowser the Hound into one of the terrible traps set by Farmer Brown's Boy, and so showing him how creditable traps are. When Old Man Coyote had found out what Sammy's errand was he was so surprised that he suddenly felt that they were going to be friends. It was then that for the first time he dared to ask what he had wanted so long to know.

"Mr. Coyote," said he, speaking in the politest manner, "you've been a neighbor for a long time, and yet somehow I've never felt really acquainted with you. Why, do you know I don't even know where you came from!"

Old Man Coyote's eyes twinkled. "You have plenty of company, I guess," said he. "Would you really like to know?"

"I certainly would," replied Sammy promptly. "I could feel a whole lot more as if we really were friends."

Old Man Coyote stretched himself out comfortably, and a far away look came into his eyes. For a long time, or what seemed like a long time to impatient Sammy Jay, he didn't say a word, but continued to look and look off into the distance. It was quite as if he saw something there. Sammy looked, but he couldn't see anything unusual. He began to think that Old Man Coyote had forgotten that he was waiting, and he had just started to clear his throat in order to remind Old Man Coyote, when the latter spoke:

"I came," said he, "from the west—from the great, wide, wonderful west."

"Oh," said Sammy, because he didn't know what else to say. He scratched his head in an uncertain sort of way, and then he ventured another question. "Is—the west very far away?"

Old Man Coyote didn't seem to hear. He was still gazing way, way off, and there was a soft, dreamy look in his eyes which made them almost gentle. All the fierceness and the sly look was gone, and somehow it was hard work for Sammy to believe that it was really Old Man Coyote he was looking at. At last Old Man Coyote sighed. It was a long, deep sigh. "Yes, I came from the west, the great, wide, wonderful west," he repeated.

"It must be a long way from here," ventured Sammy.

"It is," replied Old Man Coyote. "I—should like to hear about it." Sammy once more ventured, and he was very polite.

"So you shall! So you shall!" exclaimed Old Man Coyote, and straightway began to tell Sammy Jay all about the land he came from.

DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Old-Fashioned Liquid Q-Ban, and No One Can Tell—Don't Cost Much!

If your hair is gray, streaked with gray, faded or falling and you want beautiful, dark hair, soft, silky and glossy, free from dandruff, simply apply plain, liquid Q-Ban to hair and scalp, like a shampoo, rubbing it in gently with the finger tips. Q-Ban doesn't cost much to try and is no doubt to use, as nothing else is required. Although not a dye, Q-Ban acts on the hair roots and makes and keeps your hair soft, fluffy, thick, giving the hair that dark, fascinating luster and abundance which makes the hair so attractive. Q-Ban is not sticky or messy; harmless, and is a delightful hair dressing. Also stops dandruff, falling hair or itching scalp. Ask druggist for Q-Ban for darkening gray hair. This preparation darkens hair when all else fails. Money back if it does not. Sold by Edmondson, 11 N. Broad st., or 104 N. Pryor st., Atlanta, Ga. 50c for a big 1-oz. bottle. LOWER CABLES AND HEAVY OFFERINGS CAUSED BREAK

market in New York closed 7
to 12 points down from the previous close

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—After opening at a decline of 3 to 7 points, the cotton market

The market continued very quiet later in the morning. Prices fell about 9 to 14 points net lower under scattering liquidation in the absence of support but steadied shortly After midday reports of large exports, including a clearance of over 50,000 bales from the U. S. to Great Britain.

Bullish comment on the increasing clearances failed to inspire any more general demand here, and the market was quiet. Prices advanced within 2 or 3 points of the lowest.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 24.—Poor cables caused a loss of 2 to 3 points in the early trading in cotton today. The market held steady on reports of a better business in yarns

The market continued dull throughout the morning but selling was checked by the heavy export movement which before noon amounted to over 60,000 bales, chiefly for England. At noon prices were 2 to 5 points down. By 1:30 prices were 3 to 4 points down, and traders apparently waiting for developments in the December position. At 1:30 prices were 6 points down on the active months.
